

Abstract

This invention is directed to a method and apparatus for implementing native code directly in C++ with object structure very closely resembling the object structure of Java. The method provides for the mapping of Java to C++ objects and invoking the Java Native Interface, mapping C++ objects to Java and returning a corresponding Java object, retrieving and returning a class factory by class name, and collecting garbage in both the C++ and Java environments.